Waging Peace in Our Schools Linda Lantieri, Janet Patti

From the largest and most successful school initiatives in social and emotional learning in the country-The Resolving Conflict Creatively Program, now active in more than 350 schools nationwide-comes a powerful, practical guide for teaching young people to empathize, mediate, negotiate, and create peace. The authors address everything from minor schoolyard conflicts to violent outbursts, and offer educators and parents proven strategies for enhancing children's emotional, social, and conflict resolution skills.

Gail Blakely:

As a college student exactly feel bored to be able to reading. If their teacher asked them to go to the library or make summary for some book, they are complained. Just very little students that has reading's soul or real their passion. They just do what the instructor want, like asked to go to the library. They go to right now there but nothing reading very seriously. Any students feel that reading through is not important, boring and can't see colorful photographs on there. Yeah, it is for being complicated. Book is very important for you. As we know that on this period, many ways to get whatever you want. Likewise word says, many ways to reach Chinese's country. Therefore , this Waging Peace in Our Schools can make you sense more interested to read.
